Dear Parents and families,

It is hard to believe that it is the end of term one. This term has gone quickly with lots of exciting programs and the students have all settled in well to school routines. It is wonderful to see the students so happy and engaged in their learning. On top of the core curriculum students have had the opportunity to engage in soccer clinics, excursions, incursions, and camps have been reinstated. We had our first school assembly where we celebrated the achievement of our new school leaders.

Every Day Counts

Promoting good attendance supports our students in their learning. It is important that students attend school every day unless they have a medical appointment. Please try to avoid scheduling appointments during school hours. Learning can also be affected when students miss part of the day with late drop off or early pickup. The students really enjoy being on the bus with their friends. If your child is not currently accessing the free bus transport service during school hours and you are interested, please contact the office.

Student Representative Council

Today the SRC cooked a delicious sausage sizzle for staff and students. This is a wonderful opportunity for our students to learn new skills and highlight their talents.

Last Day for Term 1

Tomorrow is the last day of term. Students will be dropped off by bus one hour earlier. Please ensure someone is available to collect your child from the bus. If you are picking your child up from school, you need to be here no later than 2pm. There will be no staff available to look after the students. I hope you all have a safe and happy holiday.

E-Safety

Education | eSafety Commissioner

When we talk about

e-Safety or cyber safety, we're referring to how people can protect themselves from online threats.

Checklist of basic steps to be safe online

SOCIAL NETWORKING SAFELY

- set your profile to private
- protect your accounts with strong passwords
- use discretion when accepting 'friends'
- think carefully before you click on suspicious links - even if they are from your friends
- don't post information that would make you or your family vulnerable, such as your date of birth and address
- don't post photos of you or your family and friends that may be inappropriate - photos that your family and friends haven't agreed to being posted or that identify where you live, work or go to school.

DEALING WITH OFFENSIVE CONTENT

- take note of the website address
- make a complaint to the ACMA.

PROTECTING YOUR CHILDREN ONLINE

- install and maintain a content filter on your computer or use parental controls on your security software
- for young children, set up your computer to only access approved websites and email addresses
- monitor where your children go online
- educate your children not to share personal information online
- report cyber bullying to your child's school and your ISP
- remind your children to never meet someone in person who they have met online unless a responsible adult is also present
- tell your children that if they are uncomfortable talking to you they can contact the Cybersmart Online Helpline (Kids Helpline) at www.cybersmart.gov.au
- report suspicious behaviour to your local police or Crime Stoppers by phoning 1800 333 000
- download the Cybersafety Help Button at www.dbrca.gov.au/helpbutton.

Cybersecurity means protecting data and information from hackers, malicious threats and cybercrime.

- 1. Turn on Multifactor Authentication. Implement multi-factor authentication on your accounts and make it significantly less likely you'll get hacked.
- 2. Update Your Software.
- 3. Think Before You Click.
- 4. Use Strong Passwords.

The key to establishing online safety as a life-long skill is to start talking about it as early as possible.

Cyber safety is the safe and responsible use of information and communication technologies, such as the internet, social media, online games, smart phones, tablets and other connected devices.

Cyber safety education provides students with the knowledge and skills they need to stay safe in online environments. It involves acknowledging the benefits and opportunities offered by the online world while understanding the risks and avoiding potential harm.

Cyber safety is everyone's responsibility. Young people, parents, families, teachers, school leaders, government and tech companies – we all play a role in creating a safer online world.

Be safe

We are Swish and Gilda. Here are some tips to keep you safe online.

Play with the games and apps that are yours

Only talk with people you know

Some things should be kept private

Be safe

Help children understand personal information and how it can be protected.

Message 1: Play with the games and apps that are yours. Devices should be set up so children know which content is for them and that other games, programs or apps may not be suitable for them.

Message 2: Only talk with people you know. This picture reminds children that they should only video call when a grown-up is helping them, and only speak to people they know.

Message 3: – Some things should be kept private. In this picture, the boys are creating an avatar with their Granddad. Avatars can be a practical way of showing children how they can keep their real name and identity private by creating a character to represent themselves in games.

Key questions when discussing this poster could include:

- Do you play on your Mum or Dad's phone, tablet or computer? Do you have a special place for your games and apps? How do you know what is yours?
- Do you talk on the computer to your friends and family? Who helps you?
- Why do you think the boy in the last picture looks confused?

If you were going to create an avatar for yourself what would it look like? Why?

Be kind

We are Swoosh and Glide. Here are some tips to keep you safe online.

Say kind things

Take turns

Ask before you take a photo

eSafety
Early Years

Be kind

Teach children to be kind and respectful in digital contexts

Message 1: Say kind things

Choosing to say kind things when connecting online is a life-long skill that can help prevent cyberbullying later on. The screen image can be a stimulus to discuss the types of things you should do when video calling, like saying hello with a smile.

Message 2: Take turns

Taking turns is a good way of managing time on screens and building self-regulation skills. The child in the background of this picture is sad because they have been left out of the game.

Message 3: Ask before you take a photo.

The little boy is taking a photo of himself with his family. He is asking his family if they would like to be in the photo.

Key questions when discussing this poster could include:

- Have you ever called your family or friends on a computer or tablet like the people in the first photo? What do you think they are saying? How do you know?
- Why do you think the boy in the middle photo looks sad? What could they do to stop him from feeling sad?
- Do you always ask someone if it is OK to take their photo before you take it? Why?

Ask for help

We like Swooosh and Giloo. Here are some tips to keep you safe online.

Tell a grown-up

Check before you tap

You won't get in trouble

Ask for help

Teach children to ask a trusted grown-up for help with any issue using digital technologies.

Message 1: Tell a grown-up.

It is really important for children to know that if something makes them feel worried, scared or sad when they are using a device they should tell a grown-up.

Message 2: Check before you tap.

Before children use a device, they should ask a grown-up. The picture shows the little boy asking if he can play a new video he has not seen before.

Message 3: You won't get in trouble.

When children are playing with digital technology often things happen that they didn't expect. It can be the same for grown-ups too! Children need to know that if something unexpected happens, they should tell a grown-up. They should be assured that the grown-up will know it was important for the child to share the problem even if it happened because they made a mistake.

Key questions when discussing this poster could include:

- Have you ever seen something that made you feel worried, scared or sad when you were playing on a tablet? Who would you tell? What do you think they would say?
- Who do you ask before you play, watch or tap on something new on a device?

Make good choices

We are Swatsoh and Gilde. Here are some tips to keep you safe online.

Why do you like it?

Use devices near a grown-up

Make good choices

Help children to think about the content they watch and how to manage their time on screens.

Message 1: Why do you like it?

Choosing to say kind things when connecting online is a life-long skill that can help prevent cyberbullying later on. The screen image can be a stimulus to discuss the types of things you should do when video calling, like saying hello with a smile.

Message 2: Use devices near a grown-up

Children need to be aware that digital technologies should be used with a grown-up nearby and in a shared space. Children should get used to the idea, from an early age, that devices should not be used in bedrooms.

Message 3: Time's up.

It is important to discuss with children how they will know when it's time to turn devices off and how they will transition to another activity.

Key questions when discussing this poster could include:

- What do you like to play on devices? What makes you like it?
- Where are these people using devices? Where are you allowed to use them?
- Have you ever been told you have been playing on a device for too long? How do you feel when that happens? What do you usually do?
